Our Favorite Moments

"When I saw Jeremy for the first time that day, it was an incredibly intense moment. He was waiting at the foot of a winding staircase, and just as I came to the last step, he gave me his arm, It was the first of many private moments."

"Throughout the ceremony, Jeremy and I would look at the happy faces of friends and family and then back at each other—we both felt so surrounded by all their love. Our four-year-old flower girl actually brought us a hanky!"

"My father is normally pretty reserved. Per his suggestion, we started the father-daughter dance to a slow, sentimental song and transitioned into something fast and fun. I didn't even know my dad had those moves in him."
